Emunah is far more than a mitzva or obligation, though it certainly is that as well. Emunah is the most precious of gifts. With emunah, one never feels alone or abandoned. With emunah, one has the courage and resilience to face the challenges of life. With emunah, one is secure and serene in that every aspect of their life is governed by Divine providence and has meaning and purpose. Emunah changes one's life for the better; as one grows in emunah, one's life becomes happier and holier as they internalize the message of Shivisi Hashem L'negdi Tamid and Kirvas Elokim Li Tov. A person with emunah is simply a different type of person - you can see the simcha on their face.

But emunah is a quality that may exist in our heads but is sometimes difficult to internalize within our emotions. Thoughts in the head have not necessarily penetrated the heart. Rabbi Reuven Garber, a true Ben Torah who strives to be an Eved Hashem, has composed a lovely sefer that can help people bridge this gap. He has gathered together over three hundred short passages from Tanach, Chazal, Kabbalah, and Chassidus that can inspire us to see and feel the imminent loving presence of Hakadosh Baruch Hu in every moment of our lives. We owe a great debt of gratitude to R. Reuven for the valuable insight and inspiration he has put together. May this work succeed in bringing many Jews to the sweet joy of emunah, and in the merit of that emunah, may Klal Yisrael be zoche to the geula sheleima bimeheira b'yameinu.

With admiration and bracha,
